

Air Temperature and Water Temperature:

How hot or cold is the air and water?

What controls temperature? The Sun!

Temperature affects nearly every other test that we do. Without measuring temperature, none of the other tests provide useful data or information.

Plants and Animals can only survive in a certain range of temperatures. Measuring Temperature helps determine what plants and animals we can expect to find.

